

BREMBO: 700 TIMES AT THE TOP, THE PASSION NEVER STOPS

From rugged roads to legendary circuits, Brembo continues to make Motorsport history

Bergamo (Italy), 16th December 2024 – Brembo, leader in the production of braking systems, celebrates a successful 2024: with 69 titles won, the company confirms its undisputed leadership in the braking systems sector. A year full of triumphs, with some truly memorable moments. In particular, in Formula 1, Max Verstappen (Oracle Red Bull Racing) won his fourth consecutive world championship, using Brembo calipers and discs. Speaking of other championships, notable mentions include Jorge Martin's (Prima Pramac Racing) success in MotoGP with the entire Brembo braking system and Marchesini wheels, and the WorldSBK championship in which Toprak Razgatlioglu (ROKiT BMW Motorrad WSBK Team) returned to triumph. Not to forget the victories of Ai Ogura (MT Helmets MSI) in Moto2 and David Alonso (CFMOTO Gaviota Aspar Team) in Moto3.

Thierry Neuville's first WRC World Championship (Hyundai Motorsport) highlights the reliability and performance of Brembo braking systems in asphalt and dirt competitions. The strength of the Italian company is also evident in Gen-7 Car, in which all drivers and teams use components from the Brembo Group, such as AP Racing, demonstrating their reliability at high speeds on oval tracks.

As a Solution Provider, Brembo leverages its many years of experience in motorsport competitions to develop innovative and sustainable technological solutions. Thanks to a constant process of research and development, Brembo is able to offer cutting-edge products to major car and motorcycle manufacturers, ensuring maximum performance and safety. The numerous victories achieved not only by Brembo but also by Group companies such as Marchesini, AP Racing, SBS Friction, and J.Juan confirm the Group's technological leadership in the sector.

Brembo has once again dominated Formula 1: all 24 races of 2024 were won by cars equipped with its brakes. Since 1975, the Bergamo-based company has collected 531 victories out of 851 Grand Prix races, winning 30 drivers' titles and 34 constructors' titles together with the strongest teams in the Circus.

The undisputed dominance in MotoGP continues, with successes extending to Moto2, Moto3, and World Superbike (also with Marchesini). Since 1978, a remarkable 592 victories in the premier class (500 and MotoGP) testify to Brembo's excellence. For the ninth consecutive year, all MotoGP riders have chosen the performance and safety of Brembo components. With 36 riders' titles and 37 constructors' titles won with top teams, Brembo is synonymous with innovation and victory in the world of two wheels.

2024 consolidates Brembo's dominance in electric motorsport as well. For the sixth consecutive season, all 22 full electric Gen3 single-seaters of the FIA Formula E and the 18 electric Ducati of the FIM MotoE World Cup have relied on the excellence of Brembo braking systems. In addition to the already mentioned championships of Formula 1, Formula E, MotoGP, Moto2, Moto3, and WSBK, it is also worth mentioning the WEC, GT, IMSA, EWC, Gen-7 Car, MXGP, Enduro, Trial, Formula 2, Formula 3, WRC, Super Formula, MotoAmerica, Porsche Mobil1 Supercup, and many others, for a total of over 700 world titles won from 1975 to today in various categories.
